Queen Contest Deadline Today

The deadline for returning applications for the Spardi Gras queen contest is 3:30 this afternoon, stated Spardi Gras chairman Dick Cirigliano in an interview yesterday.

Cirigliano emphasized the fact that organizations must return their application blanks to Dean of Women Helen Dimmick's office today or they will not be able to enter their candidate in the contest.

The rules governing the queen contest follow:

1. No more than two organizations may sponsor a queen candidate.
2. Candidates for queen must have clear scholastic standing.
3. Non-college talent will not be used for queen contests at any time during the Spardi Gras.
4. Publicity for candidates may not begin before 7 a.m. on May 23. Publicity will be limited in the following ways:
 - a. No more than two publicity articles in Spartan Daily other than general articles concerning queen contest.
 - b. One rally per candidate.
 - c. Unlimited posters, and publicity stunts, but limited to campus only. Posters are to be distributed in the same manner as those for student elections.
 - d. Violators of any of the above must forfeit the right of their candidate to compete.
 - e. Advertising limitations: Each candidate entitled to one sign 75 square feet, and two of 15 square feet.
5. Space for signs may not be reserved in advance.
6. All publicity should be removed by 8 p.m. the day of final queen elections.
7. Date and time of queen rallies will be set by the contest committee.
8. Voting will be conducted by the Student Court. The preliminary election will be Friday, May 27.
9. The final vote for Spardi Gras queen shall be held Wednesday, June 1.

Cirigliano also announced that all organizations who have not done so should contact Spardi Gras advisors Rocco Pisano or Mrs. I. Pritchard in reference to their proposed costumes.

At present, Dr. Thurman is serving the Fellowship Church of All Peoples in San Francisco.

Author of Many Articles
"The Greatest of These," "Deep River," "The Negro Spiritual Speaks of Life and Death," and "Meditations for the Apostles of Sensitiveness," are among the many articles that Dr. Thurman has authored.

Dean Paul Pitman lauded the ability of Dr. Thurman when he said, "Dr. Thurman spoke at an all-college assembly three years ago and made such a favorable impression that we are inviting him back for the 1949 memorial day exercise."

Mr. Elmo A. Robinson, professor of philosophy at SJSC, also had high praise for the doctor. "I have heard Dr. Howard Thurman preach at Vassar college and consider him a speaker of unusual ability—I hope that students may take advantage of this opportunity to hear him."

Juniors, Seniors Eat Beans Today

A bean feed at 6 p.m. at Alum Rock park will highlight the junior-senior picnic today.

An extensive program of activities has been planned by Program Chairman Bill Schulz, which include games, entertainment after dinner, group singing and swimming. Activities will be from 3 to 8 p.m.

"Any old clothes will do for the affair," announced Carl Holmberg, junior class president, "the older the more appropriate."

The menu has been planned to satisfy even the finest of gourmets. The delicacies include salad, in large and plentiful quantities, ice cream, coke, French bread and the aforementioned bean feed.

Transportation will be provided for those in need. There will be an entourage leaving the Student Union every half hour, starting at 3 p.m. There will also be someone at the park to direct students to the site of the picnic.

"We expect a crowd of about 100 students to attend the affair," stated Holmberg.

Foggy Until Late; Beaches Can Wait

Week-ending Spartans at Santa Cruz will never have it so good again for quite a while, according to the weather map and forecast in the Science Building.

Students who are planning to spend two or more days at the coast will be able to stay up all night and sleep all morning because the fog isn't destined to clear before noon either Saturday or Sunday.

The afternoons are scheduled to be fair with little change in temperature. Moderate westerly winds can be expected for the late p.m.

'Lucky Friday' Dance Will Include Felines

By HARRY BRITTON

Someone let the cat out of the bag!

With one cat in hand and another promised, the Chi Pi Sigma "Lucky Friday 13" dance committee members thought that things were going well in their cat donation campaign. To be certain the felines would be available for the dressy sport affair at La Rinconada country club tonight, the donations were placed in the frat house at 275 N. Fifth Street.

Then it happened.

Yesterday morning the cat donated by Earl Mowray disappeared. "We did not have the critter guarded," said red-faced Dean Patrick, publicity officer, "and he took advantage of us."

All of the resources of the police students at the frat house have been summoned to cope with the "break" but there is no trace of the animal. "We hope for a lead in the case soon," he admitted, "but in the meantime we will be happy to accept other cat donations."

The winner of the free dance bid in Tuesday's Daily was Leonard M. Teshera, a social science major from Hayward. The holder of the voucher in Wednesday's paper should present it to Patrick in the Police-school squad room.

Music for the dance is by Al Ferguson. Bids are on sale for $2 in the library arch booth.

Vets--Check Slips

All veterans with incomplete book slips on file in either book store should check with their respective stores before May 18. All book slips still on file after that date will be cancelled.

PE Clubs Entertain Stanford at SJSC

The Riding club, Archery club, and Tennis club of WAA will play host to Stanford groups at "Sports Day" tomorrow, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Leta Walter, WAA president, announced yesterday.

Dora Dill, Ruthie Laine, and Gerrie Bean, managers for tennis, archery and riding respectively, will be in charge of events. Mary McNeil is general chairman for the day.

The softball and swimming groups from WAA will travel to the Stanford campus for a "Play Day," May 26.

Miss Walter also reported that tentative plans were being made for a WAA "Spread" to be held later this quarter, probably June 14.

Student Court Holds Fate of Bishop Case

The Student Court held a special meeting yesterday to outline a program for Monday's regular meeting.

The court will hold the fate of the Ray Bishop case in its hands, when it will decide whether or not Prosecuting Attorney Dick Robinson has the authority to drop charges.

Tuesday, Robinson refused to prosecute the Bishop case on the grounds that there was insufficient evidence.

The Court will also endeavor to determine who has the authority to drop charges.

"If the prosecuting attorney can't drop charges, who can," said Justice Don DeGeller. "That is what we intend to determine."

The decision of the Court Monday will determine whether or not

Students Nominate Judges, Legislators At Monday Assembly

Nominations for student body offices will be held Monday in the Little Theater at 1:30 p.m., it was announced yesterday. Nominations for student council representatives are scheduled for 1:30, and for Student Court and the prosecuting attorney at 2:30.

Five students will be named to the Student Council, including two representatives-at-large, one male and one female, and one representative from the three upper classes. Anyone with a clear standing, either graduate or undergraduate, is eligible.

Attorney Elected At-large

Nominations to fill posts on the Student Court will follow the council nominations. The prosecuting attorney will be elected at-large from any class and must satisfy at least 75 academic units before entering office.

There will be nominations for the two senior justices, one male and one female, who have completed 120 units. These will be elected by members of the senior class only. The two sophomore justices must have completed not less than 45 units, and will be elected by members of the sophomore class only.

In charge of the nomination assembly will be Jim Taylor and Marge Weaver.

Law Students Urged to Run

Don DeGeller, court justice, said that the Student Court especially urges all pre-legal and administrative law students to run for the court and the office of prosecuting attorney. He also pointed out that justices do not represent their respective classes but the whole student body.

Nomination rules qualify any ASB card holder to make the nomination at the assembly. Candidates winning the final election will take office on June 2, DeGeller announced.

Robinson will be served with a writ of mandamus, which will compel him to prosecute the case.

Vice-president Bob Cronmiller was not available to comment in the absence of President Tom Wall.

The Student Council charged Ray Bishop with neglect of duty May 2. Bishop was the 1949 Revelries director.

Monday, President Tom Wall received a written report from Bishop on Revelries, and moved that the council drop the charges. Wall's action was met by a protest from Bishop's counsel, Stuart Goehler.

Goehler maintained that Bishop should have a chance to clear his name of the charges in an open hearing. The case was dismissed Tuesday when Robinson refused to prosecute.

All Right, 'Trigger,' Drop the Dough

Dr. Thurman to Speak At SJSC Memorial Rite

Dr. Howard Thurman, outstanding civic leader who is scheduled to appear in the Morris Dailey auditorium on May 27, will speak at the First Methodist church Sunday, at 3:30, according to information received from the Men's Brotherhood League of the Antioch Baptist church.

The well-known educator is a member of the executive committee of the National conference of Christians and Jews.

He was selected as the 1947 Ingersoll lecturer at Harvard university, and was guest professor of the philosophy of religion, school of religion, University of

Dinner Will Honor Senior Counselors

The senior class council dinner, to be held June 21, will honor all members of the class of '49 who served two quarters on a class council anytime while at San Jose State college.

George Link, class president, said that the dinner and entertainment will be free to council members, but a fee of $2.75 will be collected for all guests.

Seniors interested in attending should sign in the Graduate Manager's office today so arrangements may be completed, Link said.

No place has yet been set for the dinner.

Spartan Stage Review

Master of Ceremonies Ray Bishop leads an all-Spartan stage review tonight when the local group performs in a Boy Scout benefit to be staged in the Willow Glen school auditorium starting at 7:45 p.m.

Student Teachers

All students who expect to do their student teaching in and during fall quarter should sign up in the Art office, room A-9, as soon as possible, according to Dr. Reitzel, department head.

Army To Inspect 300 SJSC Cadets

Three hundred Spartan ROTC cadets will parade before Col. John D. Armstrong and his Sixth Army inspection team this afternoon at 2:30.

The annual federal review will culminate a two day inspection tour by the visiting dignitaries. The San Jose State college band will play martial airs for the drill.

In last year's inspection, though bogged down by bad weather, the local unit acquired a rating of "excellent."

"This year," said Col. James Hea, ROTC commanding officer, "we are striving for a 'superior' rating."

Inspecting with Col. Armstrong will be Lt. Col. Robert S. McClenaghan, Major John C. Ivey, and Major John M. Fowler. Lt. Col. Converse B. Kelly is representing the Fourth Air Force.

Nature School Plans Pacific Coast Tours

By JOHN LARSEN

Need two extra units of natural science to graduate? In fact, do you just need two extra units? A pleasant way to garner said points toward an A.B. is offered by the West Coast Nature School.

This school, operated under the auspices of the Natural Science department at San Jose State, holds one week sessions at various national parks and monuments each summer. This year the student has a choice of three different localities in which to study. He may attend the first session, June 26-July 2, among the world famous redwood trees at Sequoia National park, take the second trip to Fallen Leaf lake in the Lake Tahoe national forest, or enroll for the third session on the coast near Asilomar.

A typical school day will run something like this: at 8:00 a.m., school begins and the student will embark on a field trip with one of the naturalist instructors. During the trip he may study geology, botany, zoology, or anyone of the related fields of natural science.

The trip is designed to be completed by 2 p.m., so that sight-seeing trips to nearby points of interest may be included in the program. Some of these trips will be directed by guide-instructors and some may be taken by the student alone. A short evening meeting will be held each day at which time lectures on the lore and legends of the area will be presented. This meeting is usually concluded with a social hour.

In other words, the West Coast nature school holds the answer to the age-old problem of a combination school-vacation time summer.

By HANK PLYMIRE

Why do we call the track stadium merely Spartan field? Adequate yes, but it seems an improvement could be made since so many outstanding athletes have passed through Sparta's halls.

Why not attach a person's name to the track? The one selected wouldn't necessarily have to be a track or field performer or even an athlete for that matter.

The University of California has its Edward's field and Stanford has Angell field. Why not a Likens field for Bob Likens, 1948 Olympic team javelin thrower, or some other worthy name of San Jose State college history. The tendency seems to be that of using names of deceased persons. In that case some research could be done and undoubtedly a worthy name chosen.

The matter could be put to a vote of the student body as to whether an athlete should be considered. Then names could be selected by a committee made up of heads of departments and student government representatives or some appropriate body.

YELLOW PERIL RIDES AGAIN
Airplane travel for ASB officers, but the "Yellow Peril"—the antiquated, uncomfortable, uncertain, slow bus is considered by someone in authority—I can't pin the responsibility on any one individual—adequate for our CCAA track champions.

Granted, this transportation is good enough for short jaunts, of 50 miles or less, but for long hauls such as Fresno and for such a contest as the conference championship, wouldn't it enhance the chances of a team to travel in a more comfortable vehicle?

To make a long story short, the bus loaded up here Friday noon. Men were sardined onto seats capable of carrying half the number present. Two men volunteered to drive their own cars when they saw the hopeless situation. One car broke down, but the other finally arrived.

The bus made the 155-mile trip—after four breakdowns—in ONLY five hours! The men competed the next afternoon and evening, then started back about midnight, and pulled in around 6 a.m. after another "happy" trip.

However, this did not handicap the Spartans bringing back the third major sport championship of the 1948-49 athletic year. If they had lost, it would not have been the time to complain—as in the case of claiming poor refereeing when on the losing end. Since a win was sustained, the time seems ripe to bring this problem before the student body so that it can be remedied.

WSSF Encourages Overseas Letters

SJSC students who wish to write to students of foreign countries may obtain correspondence blanks at the bulletin board in the Administration building, World Student Service Fund chairman Marsh Pitman announced.

"This is a grand way to get to know your fellow students in distant countries," Pitman said.

If there are no blanks left at the bulletin board, students should leave their names and addresses for the WSSF committee, Pitman said.

Spartan Nine Meets Pacific in Crucial

Three-Game Series Starting Today May Decide CCAA Winner
By CLIFF DANIELS

Last year's CCAA baseball champs, the College of Pacific Tigers, move into the Prune city this afternoon for the first of a three-game series with Spartan horsehiders. Starting time is slated for 2:30 o'clock at the Municipal stadium. Under the lights tonight, also in the confines of the stadium, the Bengals and Spartans will clash again, this contest being on tap for 8 o'clock. Tomorrow, the trio of games will be completed with another 2:30 p.m. game on the same field.

Romero, Santos Pitch

Bob Santos and Ralph Romero have been nominated by Coach Walt Williams to chuck the two contests today. Santos goes in the daytime encounter and Romero will come back in the nocturnal clash. Romero is very effective at night, a fact to which the Stanford Indians can testify after his fine performance against them at Washington Park last week.

Both pitchers have a 2-1 record for the conference. Santos defeated San Diego and Cal Poly and lost to Santa Barbara. Romero beat San Diego and Santa Barbara, but dropped a close decision to the Cal Poly Mustangs last weekend. Santos has an earned run average of 2.70, while Romero boasts an outstanding 1.93.

Pete Mesa, the leading pitcher in the CCAA, will hurl against the Stocktonites tomorrow. Mesa has compiled a record of 3-0 and has only been charged with 133 runs per game. During his three complete games pitched, Mesa has struck out 17 batters to rate second to Romero who has fanned 25 men. Santos has set down 12.

McWilliams COP Chucker

Pacific's leading chucker, Stan McWilliams, will probably be the visitors' opening choice. He has a 3-1 record in 2C2A play and has whiffed 18 enemy batters. Jerry Haines, with 1-0 to his credit, is the second hurler on the staff. Haines will undoubtedly see action during the series.

These two men have accounted for four of Pacific's five league victories, but have had able support from Bill McFarland, Bob Grunsky and Sam West. Coach Hugh McWilliams' Saturday selection will probably come from one of the latter slab men.

SJS Diamond Squad Drops Third Battle To USF Hilltoppers

San Jose State's baseball team dropped its third straight game to the U.S.F. Dons by a score of 10-8 at the Municipal Stadium last night.

The Dons tried to give the game away, committing eight errors, but Coach Williams' baseballers weren't in the receiving mood. Two Don players were thrown out of the game by plate umpire Emile Corboline after a lengthy squabble in the top half of the eighth inning.

The Spartans, trailing by two runs, loaded the bases in their last turn at bat with no outs, but the rally died as Bob Wuesthoff was thrown out on an attempted squeeze and Will Concklin fanned.

Mel Stein hammered out a homer in the fifth inning with Don Lopes on base to start the Gold and White scoring. The Dons took the lead in the first inning and were never headed as they got to pitcher Ray Jacobus for 10 hits.

Fresno Relay Meet Beckons Spartans

Trojans Favored To Win Top Honors

By HANK PLYMIRE

"Where World Records Are Broken" . . . that describes the annual West Coast Relays which the Spartans will enter Saturday afternoon and evening. Coach Bud Winter plans to enter a 17-man team in the 23rd annual classic trackfest.

According to the dope sheets, this year's meet appears to be a knock down and drag out battle between USC and Stanford for first place honors.

His entrants in the university (open) division are: 100—Bob Crowe, Steve O'Meara; pole vault—George Mattos; special 220—Warren Eisenberg (fresh); high jump—Mel Martin, Ivan Bland; discus—Woody Linn; javelin—Boyd Porch; broad jump—Ronnie Maire, Bill Gallagher; 120 high hurdles—Jack and Bill Passey.

Crowe, O'Meara, L. W. "Red" Hall and Stu Inman will run in the university 880 yard relay, where USC has their eyes on a possible world record. Winter announced Thursday he probably wouldn't enter a 440 relay team, inasmuch as that would necessitate having Crowe run possibly five races in one day, Inman at least three, and O'Meara four.

Spartan college mile relay entry personnel is still uncertain, according to Winter. Bob Herrick is definitely out due to a leg injury. Fred Mangini, who now is working out with the football team, also has a bad leg and may not run. Inman and Crowe are certain starters, while Bob Nicolai and Hank Plymire may be used to fill in.

These latter four runners were clocked in 3:19.5, when they took second behind Pacific's quartet in the CCAA meet. The Tigers were clocked in 3:18.9, which could indicate that they are ready to threaten the West Coast Relay record of 3:18.6 in the special college four-lapper.

Dore Purdy and Seward Chapman are San Jose State entrants in the 5000 meter run, which will open the evening program at 7:10.

New Scoreboard Unveiled Today

San Jose's Men's gym will have one of the most elaborate electric basketball score boards, on the Pacific coast today when a $417 electric score clock is installed. This aid to spectators' enjoyment is a donation of the 1949 senior class.

Such innovations as a siren for the time outs, illuminated clock face, colored lights and room for names and numbers of 20 players make up the complicated mechanism of the scorer.

A senior-junior basketball game will dedicate the informative donation. This game will be played Thursday, May 19. The seniors will be captained by Bob Hagen, while the juniors will be under the leadership of Junior Morgan.

SIXTH STRAIGHT TITLE?

SJS Golfers Defend Title in CCAA Meet

By JACK RUSSELL

Out to capture its sixth straight CCAA title and to keep its undefeated record intact, four Spartan golfers began tournament medal play today in Stockton.

The meet, which was switched back to Stockton late yesterday, will end this evening after 36 holes of medal play. The four-man team with the lowest score will take home the championship.

Eli Bariteau, Bill Ogden, Ross Smith, and Warren MacCarty will attempt to keep the trophy in the college showcase. Last year the Spartan foursome of Bariteau, Harris, Fottrell, and Verutti won the crown with a team total of 578, 27 strokes ahead of second place San Diego. Bobby Harris tied for individual honors.

This year the opposition is expected to be much tougher. In fact, the "Golden Golfers" are only slight favorites, even if they are national champions. A powerful San Diego State squad, led by par-busting Frank Morey, is out to upset State.

The host COP contingent will also present a formidable obstacle to the Gold and White linksmen. The Bengal golfers are led by Bud Troyer, Andy Blossom, and Wayne Hardin.

This tourney marks the end of CCAA championship meets for Spartan athletic teams this year. San Jose State has won four titles already and the golf squad plans to make it number five.

Bariteau, who finished fourth in the amateur standings at the Cal Open last weekend, is playing his final CCAA tournament match as is Ross Smith, last year's captain.

SJS Netters Meet Cards, COP Wins

Coach Ted Mumby's tennis squad crosses racquets with the Stanford Indian netters today on the Stanford course. The "Farm Boys" will be favored since their squad is one of the best on the coast.

Gene Franco, Ed Terry, Chet Bulwa, Bob Phelps, Dick Russo, Jim Cruze, and Don Gale will make the trip for State. Wednesday the local team received an 8-1 beating from the CCAA champions, COP, at Stockton.

Uproarious "Mr. Belvedere" alias Clifton Webb, deadpans his way through a sequel to "Sitting Pretty" called "Mr. Belvedere Goes to College" currently at the California theater. In this latest from ham hamlet, Actor Webb turns in another delightful performance as the egotistical author of a best seller who does four years in one to qualify for a $10,000 award. Libel suits from

Mr. Belvedere wears his freshman dink with the same dignity and flawless style of his brooks suits, and is at his funniest disclosing to sorority girls his crepes (suzette) belvedere, and piano a la belvedere. So help me, he even pole vaults the freshmen to victory in the frosh-soph mixer.

Webb is unably supported by Shirley Temple and Tom Drake in a romance-misunderstanding situation. Comedian Alan Young is disappointing.

Fortunately the camera seldom leaves Belvedere, and he sustains the 90 minutes with his best straight-faced acting through some highly amusing sequences.

The other movie on the docket is an indigo-colored western done in Truecolor and called the "Last Bandit." Let's hope it is the last.

Sorority Pictures

All campus sororities must make arrangements within the next few days with the Spartan Daily photography department for their Spardi Gras costume pictures, according to Dick McGlinchey, Spardi Gras publicity director.

Conservation Club To Organize Here

A Wildlife Conservation club is being organized at San Jose State this quarter, according to John Del Conte, junior biological science major, acting chairman of the group.

"This is to be an active professional club to promote education in the field of conservation," Del Conte said, "and to stimulate interest in related fields of natural science."

Del Conte emphasized that the group will not be a social organization, but a working club for all interested biological science majors.

Membership in the organization will be open to all biological or zoological science majors," Del Conte declared, "or to any education majors with a conservation minor."

The club is designed to operate in conjunction with the new conservation department tentatively scheduled to be started next fall.

Dr. William Graf, zoology department head, is adviser for the new group, which will hold its first formal meeting early next month.

"This meeting will probably be held the first Tuesday in June," Del Conte announced, "at which time we will hold an election of officers and a general discussion as to future activities."

Inaugural Banquet Set for Tonight

Collegiate Christian Fellowship's second annual Inaugural Banquet, takes place tonight according to Ken Campbell, publicity chairman.

Campbell said the banquet room of O'Brien's restaurant is the site of the affair, which culminates the quarters social activities.

A talk by A. Sheridan Atkinson, investment analyst for the University of California will be the feature of the program.

CCF officers to be installed during the banquet include: Stan Ekstrand, president; Catherine Barnes, vice-president; Dorothy Neuhart, secretary; Spencer Sutherland, treasurer.

Tickets for the event priced at $1.85 per plate, can be purchased from organization members.

Veterans taking less than a full time program during Summer Session will not have their entitlement charged against at the full time rate, according to a recent V. A. announcement.

If a veteran in the six weeks session takes a half time program of three units, his entitlement will be used up at a corresponding half time rate which would be three weeks instead of six. The same applies to three-fourths and one-fourth time programs.
